

Answers for Smith Micheal S.

Has EMNI arranged for European recruits to travel to United States, rather than traveling to Syria? If so, approximately how many?

Not that I know of, it is possible. But I haven't heard anyone speaking about it. So I can't say it for sure.

Have Islamic State members in Europe trained European recruits who have not visited Syria to execute attacks in the United States?

Nothing, I heard of. But again I can't say it for sure, it is ~~thin~~ possible. But not that I know of.

Is EMNI involved with recruitment in the Caribbean, or trained recruits in the Caribbean to execute attacks in the United States?

I've met members of Jaysh Al-Khalifah and Jaysh Al-Wilayat, who are from Jamaica and Trinidad and Tobago. They also have ties to Organised Crime on their Islands, but if they are planning or recruiting, I don't know.

Is EMNI focused on recruiting individuals in the Caribbean, Central America, or South America who are part of al-Qa'aidas network.

Again I cannot say, but I've met people from the Caribbean and South America. But Noone I was speaking to, or I've met. Spoke about recruiting people, from the Caribbean, South or Central America. But know that the EMNI, has people of all backgrounds working for them. That's what my Old Amir back in Syria has told us back then.